WILSON TELLS THE ALLIES HE MAY WITHDRAW TREATY FROM SENATE

SHIPPING BOARD HEAD IS NEWEST CABINET MEMBER

John Barton Payne.

John Barton Payne, named secretary of the interior by President Wilson to succeed Franklin K. Lane, has been head of the U. S. shipping board since the resignation of Edward N. Hurley. He has shown his American spirit by urging U. S. merchants and business men to keep America in the front in shipping by taking over the ships now under control of the board, thereby preventing the purchase of the ships by foreign capital.

SAY UTILITIES FORCED TO PASS COST TO OTHERS

Fourteen Per Cent Wage Advance Is Charged On Coal Sold.

Hearing Brings Out Some Very Interesting Evidence

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 17.—Because their coal is purchased under contract public utilities are charging the recent 14 percent wage advance granted to miners on coal they buy and they in turn have to pass the increase cost on to their patrons, representatives of utilities corporations testified today before the coal wage investigating committee.

The witnesses said there apparently was a general public belief that the operators had agreed to absorb the 14 percent increase, but as a matter of fact they had agreed to absorb it only as to coal not purchased under contract.

MUST TREAT ARMENIANS DECENT OR TURKS LOSE

Allies Serve Notice That Turk May Retain Constantinople On Condition.

HINT AT WHAT MAY COME

Warning Issued Against Mistreating Armenians.

(By Associated Press.)

London, February 17.—Great Britain, it was learned today, has instructed Admiral de Robeck at Constantinople to announce there that the Allies have decided not to deprive Turkey of Constantinople.

If the persecution of the Armenians continues, however, the Admiral was instructed to say the peace treaty with Turkey may be considerably modified.

The fact that continued possession of Constantinople had been granted her should not be misconstrued by Turkey, the British representative was directed to inform the Turkish government. It did not mean, he was told to say, that the allies would deal leniently with Turkey should the recently reported atrocities continue.

The allied supreme council today considered late reports of massacres of Armenians and note was taken that the reports for the most part emanated from Armenian sources.

Admiral de Robeck will point out to the Turks that they must show an inclination to comport themselves properly or be subject to a peace more severe than the council now is disposed to arrange.

COMPLETE REPLY TO THE PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press.)

London, February 17.—The Allied supreme council has completed the draft of its answer to President Wilson's Adriatic memorandum and will hand it to Ambassador Davis tonight for transmission to Washington.

The council declined to make public the President's communication or its reply.

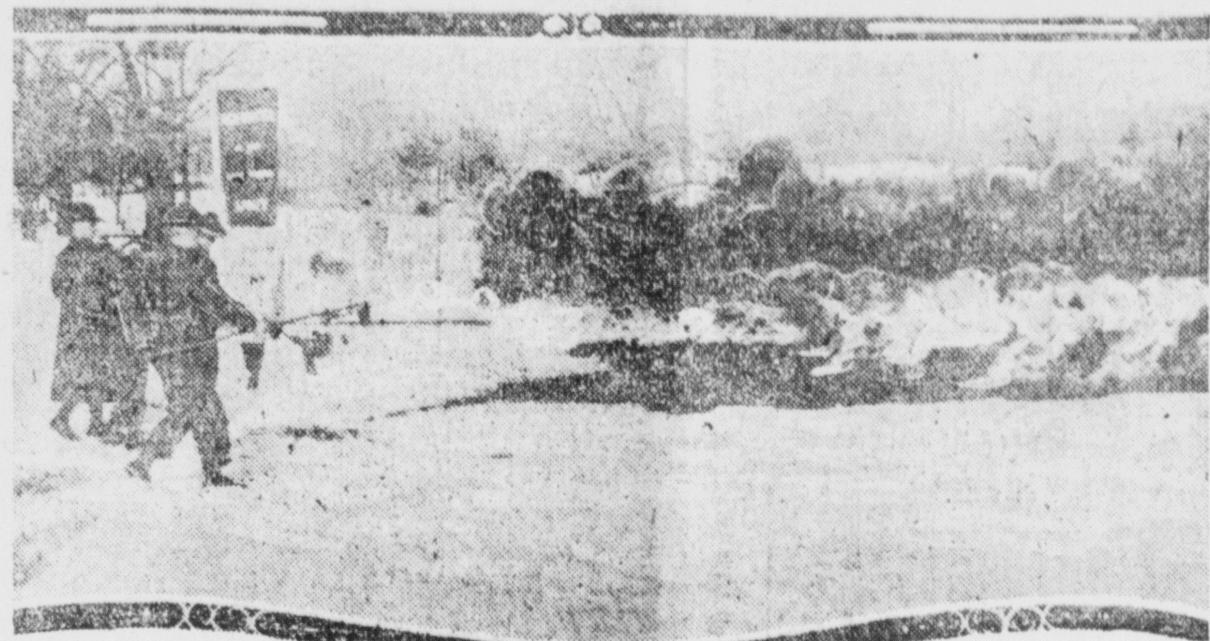

PLAN CHANGES IN GRID RULES

(By Associated Press.)

Boston, February 17.—A proposal to change the rules of football so the length of a game will be regulated by the number of plays instead of by time will be considered at the next meeting of the football rules committee.

The plan has endorsement of Walter Camp and others prominent in the sport.

FLAME THROWERS, DESIGNED FOR FOE, MELT HUGE SNOW-DRIFTS

A squad of flame throwers in action on New York street.

Flame throwers similar to those turned loose against the foe in the war, were brought into play recently to help free New York streets of the towering snow-drifts left by the storm. Pedestrians who watched the soldiers handling the death-dealing devices got some idea of their effectiveness against man by the way in which they lowered high drifts in a few seconds. The throwers, though, have to be filled too frequently to make their use on a large scale practical.

War department officials took advantage of the experiment and sent recruiting officers along with the squads to help boost the drive for 75,000 recruits for the regular army, now being conducted all over the country.

James Harris Rogers.

James Harris Rogers of Hyattsville, Md., inventor of underground and underseas wireless, has announced in an interview that he will attempt his plan to take messages of wave lengths up to 150,000 meters in the hope of catching a message from Mars. This is 50,000 meters longer than the wave lengths used by the Marconi plant, where it was thought some of Mars signals were faintly heard.

INSISTS PACT A DISREGARD OF ARMISTICE

Treaty Debate Under Way Occupies Entire Day in Senate

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 17.—Debate on the treaty of Versailles resumed in the Senate yesterday with the opposing sides apparently as far from an agreement as ever, was expected to occupy practically all of today's session.

Urging the senate to judge the treaty of peace with Germany by the light of history and test it by the principles of international justice, Senator Thomas, democrat, declared today in the Senate that the document was an effectual disregard by the United States and the allies of the general peace terms which Germany was induced to accept when she signed the armistice.

Wilson Points Out United States Could Not Ratify The Pact Involving Changes Not Agreed To.

FRENCH PRESS ACCUSED

Responsibility For Changes In The Adriatic Agreement On Premiers.

Allies Must Have Consent Of United States or Face Complications, is Hint.

Reply To Wilson's Note Will Be Forwarded Tuesday Night

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, February 17.—President Wilson in his "memorandum" to the allies concerning their proposed Adriatic settlement informed them the United States might have to consider withdrawing the treaty of Versailles from the Senate if the allies went ahead with their plans without consent of the United States.

This statement was made officially here today with the statement that the American position was outlined not in the nature of a threat but as a statement of a situation created "not by an act of the American government but by act of the British, French and Italian premiers which would place the United States in the position if it were a party to the treaty of Versailles of subscribing through the pact to rights of sovereignty and other agreements to which it was opposed."

The treaty of Versailles and the Anglo-Franco-American pact are considered inseparable as far as the question is concerned and if President Wilson should determine to withdraw the treaty of Versailles it would mean the American-French pact would be withdrawn at the same time, it was explained.

State Department officials take the position that the French press is endeavoring through setting up a cry of threat on the part of the American government to place the blame for the situation which has arisen at America's door "instead of on the acts of the former premiers where it belongs."

It was reiterated that on December 9th before Acting Secretary Polk left Paris the American British and French representatives had agreed on a settlement of the Adriatic question and it was charged that subsequently without consulting the United States the allied premiers meeting at Paris adopted a new agreement which was transmitted to Ambassador Wallace for the approval of the American government.

CAILLAUX NOW FACES ACCUSATION OF TREASON

Trial of the Former Premier Of France Under Way After Long Delay

WIFE WAS MURDERER

Caillaux Suspected of Heading Move to Make Peace With Germany.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, February 17.—Joseph Caillaux, former premier of France, was placed on trial today before the Senate sitting as a high court, charged with conspiracy against his country in time of war.

Two years ago on January 14, 1918, for the first time in the history of the Third Republic of France, one of its former Premiers, Joseph Caillaux, was thrust into prison on the charge of high treason and of endeavoring to make a premature and dishonorable peace with Germany. For more than 20 years he had been a power in French political life, both as Premier and Minister of Finance. He has expressed his determination to "fight to the last ditch" although his long detention has made inroads upon his health. After 44 preliminary hearings, he protested in vain against the law's delay. Last September Caillaux was removed from his Paris prison to a hospital at Neuilly.

The case against Caillaux is somewhat related to that against Bolo Pasha, who was executed at Vincennes as a spy in April, 1918, and M. Duval, Mayor of the Germanophile newspaper Bonnet Rouge, who went to his death for similar treachery the following July.

Caillaux was not in the cabinet when the war began. He resigned shortly after March 16, 1914, the day his wife shot and killed Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro, for accusing Caillaux of having played into Germany's hands in settling the Moroccan crisis of 1911.

Caillaux was suspected of heading a pacifist movement having as its object a reconciliation between France and Germany, a suspicion which became all the more serious by reason of the fact that German spies were everywhere in France and were believed to have penetrated into the councils of the government. The "defeatist" propaganda, intended to break down the morale of the French people by leading them to believe Germany was invincible, had wide ramifications. It reached from Paris to Rome and from Rome to Washington and Buenos Aires. Count von Bernstorff, formerly German Ambassador at Washington, was charged with having spent more than $2,000,000 to create similar "defeatist" conditions in Italy.

Keeping the Human Machine Tuned Up

It's hard to meet a person who has not been going at top speed for some time. Is it any wonder systems, under such acceleration as they have been going, should be slightly under normal in vitality.

Stimulants will, for a time, spur them on, but what they need is permanent building up. They need food that is easiest for the system to utilize so they can "catch up."

By reason of its ease of assimilation Fresh Milk is the ideal food for de-vitalized systems. The system takes up all the food qualities without extra exertion. And, too, Milk contains more real food than most solid foods.

CINCINNATI WILL FIGHT MALE VAMPS

"Male vampires"—men and boys who stand on the sidewalk and street corners and make themselves obnoxious to women and girls who pass by are to be made the object of a crusade in Cincinnati, where the authorities have taken the matter up and will arrest and fine violators.

Cincinnati has been full of "male vamps" according to press reports. In this connection the statement of one of the two young girls from Cincinnati who recently were found to have stolen a large amount of wearing apparel from the homes where they were employed in this city, is of interest. One of the girls informed Probation Officer Miss Mary Robinson that the men and boys of Cincinnati were not half so bad in standing on the streets and making remarks to attract attention of girls who were passing, as a gang of young men in this city.

NEGLECTED STOCK AND PAYS A FINE

Charles Cartmell, farmer of near Big Plain, was in Squire Francis McGuire's court, Tuesday, and paid a fine of $15 and costs, for neglecting his live stock. Humane Officer Dan McGuire visited the farm of the defendant and found much neglect. Fifty head of sheep in a shed were unsupplied with straw, and three or four lambs were found standing in the mud, in the shed frozen stiff. The granaries were supplied with hay and grain. Cartmell is said to have showed the officer where he had put a dead shepherd dog in a drawer of a bureau in the house, stating that he could not bury the animal because of the ground being frozen. He has 13 violins in the house.—London Democrat.

GREAT ACTIVITY AMONG ATHLETICS IN CLUB CIRCLES

Baseball Season Will Open
The Latter Part of April
At Sunnyside Park.

Tom Suttles Will Take Over Active Management of The Athletics.

An announcement that will be received with interest to the baseball fans is made by Manager Carl Noon who states that the local baseball season will open at Sunnyside Park the third or fourth Sunday in April if the weather permits. By that time the veterans and rookies of the squad will have rounded into shape and everything ready for the word "Play."

It was given out at club headquarters, Tuesday that when the season arrives Tom Suttles will take over the management of the Athletics. Suttles will also play some infield position.
This veteran of the diamond has had years of experience in handling teams and led the Wilmington Clintons for a number of seasons.

Three new men are ready to sign contracts with the Athletic for the 1920 season. Emery, White, and Fisher, are the men named. With the addition of White to the outfield the Washington club will undoubtedly possess one of the strongest trio of gardeners that the Athletic machine has been able to boast for several seasons.
Noon, Nip Jones, and White, will cover the sward in the outfields.

Three new men will be given thorough tryouts in the outfield and if satisfactory will be valuable utility material. Don Sollars who has had much amateur experience, will try for the middle field. Jean Tillett and R. J.
O'Neill will be the other two men.

Right at present the big problem to the club officials is in lining up slab material. Search is being made for a first class pitcher to work in unison with Morris.

Internment For The Kaiser

It is quite probable that there will be found in this country considerable public sentiment favorable to the latest Allied note to Holland with regard to the extradition of the former German emperor. This note, reversing the original demand for his surrender, only asks his internment with a suggestion that the former monarch be sent perhaps to one of the Dutch islands in the East Indies.

The same idea seems to have brewed with the Dutch Government, which is reported as having already determined to make reply to the Allies with an offer actually to intern Wilhelm at Doorn and to accept the full responsibility of preventing him from endangering the peace of the world, establishing over him a guard and strict censorship.

But there will also follow a wide divergence of opinion as to the nature of the internment and it is hardly probable that the former Kaiser's taking possession of "the House of Doorn" at Doorn, Holland, which he purchased some time ago, and residing there with all the comfort of the royal retinue, would be the kind of internment acceptable to the Allies.

The idea of an internment, which involves exile, is finding quite a good deal of support on the ground that it would inflict a life-long punishment and yet afford no opportunity for making a martyr of a man who certainly is entitled to no such honor. According to one American judge "death for the Kaiser at the hands of the Allies would in the eyes of his equally guilty countrymen, be merely an exchange of a martyr's crown for the imperial."

An admittedly authoritative section of American legal opinion has been secured by the Literary Digest, which gives out the verdict of 328 American jurists in the case of William Hohenzollern if found guilty. This verdict of justices of the state supreme courts, district, county and circuit judges and heads of the legal departments of our universities is recorded:

For exile, 137.
For capital punishment, 106.
For imprisonment, 51.
For other penalties, 7.
Against any trial, 27.

The American idea of punishment by exile is no comfortable, case-taking internment—rather exile under forced labor, practically equivalent to imprisonment, upon "some remote island to live as a peasant, with opportunity to reflect upon the misery and desolation he brought to humanity," at some place far from Germany and its influences.

A Montana judge suggests exile in Belgium, sentenced to penal servitude for life, working under a guard of Belgian soldiers, and a judge from Nebraska that he be "stripped of all luxuries and pleasures of life and confined to the food, drink and manner of life to the plainest necessities, as thousands of his widowed and orphaned victims will be compelled to live."

Closely allied with the sentence of exile and constituting together with that classification by far the majority of the jurists whose opinions are presented in the Digest is the suffrage of those favoring imprisonment. The demarcation between these groups is not always distinct and they concur in the idea that the ex-Kaiser's outrages upon humanity entitle him to little consideration, and that his punishment should be considered in the light of the future welfare of civilization rather than the effect upon the Kaiser himself.

It is hardly possible that Belgium and France, with all around them the memorials of the cruelties of this arch-criminal would be amenable to any suggestion of internment which did not also involve hardships and exile.

Eighty Years Ago

Every once in a while, someone reminds us of the time when a dollar would buy a whole carload of groceries, with the car thrown in, and seems to take a delight in drawing a contrast with present day valuations.

One of these antiquarians has dug out a schedule of prices for commodities posted in 1840 which lists, among others, these items:

Eggs, 6 cents a dozen; chickens, 8 cents apiece; oats, 10 cents a bushel; vinegar, 6 cents a quart; molasses, 15 cents a quart; coffee, 13 cents a pound; and—whisky, 32 cents a gallon.

But, just the same, it doesn't mean that it was easier to get along in that day than this—as a matter of fact, it was a great deal harder.

When you stop to consider that a dollar was about ten times as difficult to capture then as now the difference is explained.

The same antiquarian, relenting of his broadside, alleviates the effect with this:

"Money was tight, and because of the scarcity there were few transactions, and there was a great deal of exchanging or swapping—wood was swapped for tea and wool for molasses, etc."

Same old story. Prices were low because money was high. Money was high because it was scarce.

Low prices do not mean anything if you haven't the price.

POETRY FOR TODAY

WORDS

Could I, without weak words that fret and grieve,
Fashion of singing airs and living light
The invisible fabric that the swallows weave
At sunset in their interlacing flight
A sheer imperishable ecstasy
To clothe your spirit in viewless singing fire,
Then should I labor to my heart's desire,
Nor fear to wrong your spirit's harmony.

But I have only words, words born in stress
And travail for your spirit's loveliness,
Yet may not my dark syllables in their flight
Through other minds weave out of song and light
The fabric of my dream, that all men see
Your spirit's beauty through eternity?

WANT TEACHERS ALL OVER OHIO APPEAL MADE

This is the week that a state-wide effort is being made to increase the number of school teachers by interesting young men and young women and former teachers and bringing them to a realization that never before has the field been so big, pay better or opportunity so great for advancement.

Some of the facts and arguments advanced by the Department of Public Instruction of Ohio are given below:

"The interests of the public are so menaced by the shortage of teachers in the Public Schools that it seems incumbent upon every public welfare organization in the state as well as the public in general to give emphasis upon every possible occasion to means and methods of our overcoming this serious threat to the proper training of our youth.

"Thirteen hundred emergency and four hundred temporary certificates in the year 1919-1920 were issued to meet the calls to fill vacancies by substitute teachers. Frequent changes of teachers occurred throughout the state in 1919; 69,000 children in the elementary schools and 10,000 in the high schools were subjected to changes of teachers during the school term.

"That in as much as America is entering into the field of world relationship the schools will be even more important public functions than they are today.

"That there never has been a time in the profession when the records both in salary and dignity have promised so much.

"Salaries have advanced since 1915 in many places fifty per cent and quite generally thru the country, thirty-three per cent. Practically the whole Nation is making a campaign for better remuneration for teachers.

"We have the best pension system of any state in the Union, in accordance with a statement of the Secretary of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

"The future social respect and standing of the teacher will be greater.

"The task set for education through the Public Schools will be greater and the building of a world democracy is big enough to engage the most talented of our young people.

"That our young people may also be made to realize the possibility of real patriotic service that is to be rendered through teaching, three million men offered their lives to save the Republic which the public schools in a large measure built in the western hemisphere and now we need patriotic men and women to perpetuate through universal education the Republic which many of them have died to save."

National song week will be observed beginning February 22. Mrs. W. P. Williamson, Youngstown, chairman of music for the federation, would have every federated music club and every federation see to it that special music is prepared for this week. Could not federated club women in the various churches ask their ministers for a song service Sunday, February 22. Clubs should arrange musical programs for that week. Make arrangements with the photoplay theater managers for a one day community sing. The chorus of popular and patriotic songs may be thrown on the screens. Federated club women should make this week a real week of song.

Rev. William Boynton Gage at the Presbyterian parsonage Monday afternoon performed a ring service which united in matrimony Miss Della M. Templin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Templin, and Mr. LeRoy J. Lemons, of Springfield.

The young couple were accompanied to the church by Mrs. Rush Hays, Mrs. Charles Sauer and Miss Bertha Cox.

The bride, who has been engaged in nursing for several years and has many warm friends in this community, was becomingly gowned in a tailored suit of blue serge, with Spring hat to match and at her girdle a corsage of sweet peas and freesias.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemons left on the afternoon train for Springfield, where the bridegroom took a position with the Poon Gas Engine Co., soon after receiving his discharge as a member of the American Expeditionary Forces and where their future home will be made. Best wishes are following them.

Reading character by handwriting is not merely a pastime, it's science according to Louise Rice in People's Magazine for January.

Does she write a nice round hand, inclined rightward at not more than thirty degrees? She's kind and pleasant and if you make passionate love to her she'll say, "Don't be silly." Does she incline her writing at an angle of sixty degrees, and is it partly angular, and full of eccentric formations? If you don't make passionate love to her she'll try to commit suicide. She's that kind. Fascinating and ardent and highly emotional and loving to be loved to a degree that's not only unusual but appalling. Does she use an angular almost upright hand, with long "t" bars, and close, accurate letter formations? Hump thee, my son along the path of diligence, for verily, she will demand of thee a bigger income every year, and she will hoard it until thou shalt pass away smothered by thy own dollars and cheated of everything else that the heart of man may desire.

"Does she write a 'back' hand, nice and round and clear. She won't care a pin whether you kiss her or not, but she'll suffer if you put your shoes one inch away from their allotted place. If its a back hand and full of sudden splashes of ink and big, uncontrolled capitals and long, aggressive "C" bars then she is jealous as the mischief, but devoted and ardent, the kind of a girl who kisses you only after you've begged her to for weeks, and nearly eats you alive when she finally gets to it."

Rev. K. B. Alexander united in marriage at Grace M. E. parsonage Monday afternoon Miss Mabel Baldwin, daughter of Mr. James H. Baldwin, of Clinton avenue, and Mr. R. Spencer Reno, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Reno, of Oakland avenue.

The ring ceremony used was witnessed by the bride's father, sister, Miss Ruth, and the bridegrooms' mother.

The bride, a decided brunette, looked very pretty in a tailored suit of dark blue serge, spring hat of blue, black fox furs, black shoes and gloves.

The happy couple accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cullen, whose wedding occurred at the same hour, the ride a sister of Mr. Reno, to Dayton where they will visit relatives.

Their future home will be made on the Baldwin farm near Cooks, Ohio, which Mr. Reno will operate. Until the recent sale of the Reno grocery the bridegroom was successfully engaged in the grocery business with his father. During the past year the bride has been connected with the Sollars Book Store.

Both young people have a large circle of friends who are extending hearty best wishes.

REPAIRS ARE MADE IN HEATING SYSTEM

During the time that the schools of this city have been dismissed because of the influenza epidemic, work on the heating system of the High and Central School Buildings has been in progress and changes have been made that will greatly aid in heating Old Central. It was found that the main pipe connecting Old Central with the heating plant of the new building was dented in one place to the extent that heating facilities had become greatly impaired.

Changes made in the connecting systems of the two buildings will reduce the cost and labor required before of heating the old building.

FUNERAL SERVICES MRS. WELLS CUSTER

The funeral services of Mrs. Wells Custer, of Jeffersonville, were conducted by Rev. McKinnon at the M. P. Church of Jeffersonville Monday afternoon at half past one o'clock.

The minister supplemented the eading of the memoir by an excellent talk and the choir furnished the music.

The flowers were lovely. The burial was made in the family lot in Fairview cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Bryant Custer, Ernest Wright, Orange Conner, Estel Conner, Leonard Conner and Roy Allen.

GREEDY EAGLE DEVOURS FISH IN SHORT TIME

(By Associated Press.)

Put In Bay, Ohio, February 17.—The gluttonous proclivities of the bald or American eagle were witnessed at close range here recently by Harry Crossley, state supervisor of Lake Erie fishing. Crossley says the eagle devoured one five pound lawyer fish (Eel pound) and several small ringed perch in but a few minutes and searched for more.

How Crossley arranged the feast for the eagle was a simple matter, he said. He was fishing through the ice in his shanty about half a mile off shore when he caught the lawyer fish. The lawyer fish has so little food value, Crossley said that he decided to arrange a feast for the eagle which he knew lived in a high tree on a nearby island.

The fish with several perch were laid on the ice several rods from the shanty. First a flock of sea gulls hovered around. Before they had a chance to light the eagle came on the scene and put the gulls to rout. Crossley said he watched the eagle through a window in his shanty and said it was not more than 15 minutes before the eagle desisted his feathers and flew back to his roost top. On looking over the remains Crossley said all that was left of the fish was one small piece of bone.

Sea gulls and eagles which are plentiful on Ohio's Lake Erie islands depend almost entirely upon the generosity of islanders and fishermen for their food during the winter as the lake is frozen over and they are unable to catch their own fish.

NOW WANT TO KNOW WHO HALTED THE PLAN TO REAPPRAISE

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 17.—Interest is keen in political, financial and commercial circles to learn who influenced the failure to bring about the expected and long overdue reappraisal of real estate in 64 of the 88 counties of Ohio. Vast importance is seen, in light of the fact that the General Assembly has ordered substantial increases to be made in the tax rates, which will fall as a heavy burden upon 34 counties which were reappraised.

There are substantial reports that the responsibility may be credited to the State Association of County Auditors. These are based upon echoes from the recent annual convention of that body.

Early last year the Ohio Tax Commission, in its annual report, drew attention to the fact that 70 per cent of the counties—most of them rural—had not conducted a general reappraisal since 1910. During the intervening year three of the "laggards" conducted reappraisals.

FRIENDS GATHER FOR LAST SERVICES

With a number of relatives and friends gathered at the home on Willard street Rev. K. B. Alexander, conducted an affecting service over all that was mortal of the husband and father John W. Boyer.

The minister followed the reading of the memoir with a short talk of appreciation for the dead and comfort for the living. Favorite hymns were sung.

The burial was made in the Washington cemetery with Employers and employees of the Washington Milling Co. acting as pall-bearers.

There were beautiful floral remembrances among them a handsome design from the Washington Milling Co. and employees.

The children who came from a distance for the services were Mrs. Regina Toops, of Mt. Sterling, Mr. Clarence Boyer, of Columbus and Mrs. Ethel Harris of near Plymouth.

OHIO VILLAGE FACES PROSPECT OF EXTINCTION

(By Associated Press.)

Osborne, O., February 16.—This village's fate will be decided tomorrow. Citizens of the community will decide whether they want to assume the expense ($100,000) for moving the village from its present location in Greene County to another site one and one half miles distant.

Land upon which the town now stands was condemned to make way for the Miami Valley flood conservation project.

If the villagers decide that the expense of relocating is too great, undoubtedly the village will become extinct. There are 314 families here and the population is about one thousand.

Homes now occupied can be purchased back from the conservancy board for ten per cent of the price paid if moved away.

NOW USING AIR FOR COMMERCE

(By Associated Press.)

New York, February 17.—Commerce and aerial navigation became a reality in the United States during the past year. The sudden cessation of hostilities at the close of 1918 threw hundreds of airplanes into the market and many of these were purchased by private companies and remodeled for commercial use. Airplane manufacturers, whose energies had been devoted exclusively to the making of war machines, also turned their attention to the commercial possibilities of aircraft and have perfected several standard commercial types. It is estimated that there are more than 2,000 privately owned aircraft in the United States.

Five regular passenger routes were established; the airplane mail service, inaugurated, May 15, 1918, between New York and Washington as an experiment, was extended to Cleveland and Chicago and put on a definite basis; and scores of private firms purchased aircraft and utilized them for the delivery of merchandise and newspapers and for conducting aerial forest surveys and patrols.

DAMAGE TO WHEAT IS NOT EXTENSIVE

According to a Fayette county farmer who has examined his wheat carefully since the ice sheet disappeared, the three weeks coating of ice did not seriously damage the wheat plants, and he believes that unless damage results at a later date that the condition of the wheat plant on April first will be almost normal.

SEE MARKED CHANGE IN FLU SITUATION

Every day shows a marked improvement in the local influenza situation and the number of new cases reported daily has shown a very rapid decline.

With scores of persons back at their work and seen on the streets after having been attacked by the disease the situation has taken on a much brighter color and optimism is expressed over the early passing of the disease. Meanwhile the orders of the Health Board are being enforced to the letter and all precaution is being made against renewal of the disease in epidemic form.

AUTO THIEF IS NOW ON TRIAL

The case of Ohio against Harry Hill of Mt. Sterling, indicted for the theft of an automobile from a Circleville man last October is now under way in the common pleas court of Pickaway county.

Among the witnesses is Pern Walters, also of Mt. Sterling, indicted with Hill, and who is now serving a term in the state reformatory.

Walters is doing time for a burglary in Clinton county while enroute to Kentucky in a stolen machine.

SCHOOL IS NORMAL AT JEFFERSONVILLE

Jeffersonville schools have again resumed normal sessions. The lower grades of the Jeffersonville schools which were closed during the last week because of the influenza epidemic resumed regular classes Monday.

The flu situation in and near Jeffersonville is improving rapidly, and comparatively few new cases have been reported.

FRUIT BUDS SAFE

So far no serious damage has resulted to the fruit buds in Fayette county, and prospects for a large crop were never brighter at this period of the year.

Fruit men anticipate a good fruit year.

Dayton Man Says New Tonic Is Wonderful Feels Fine Now.

"I had a cough that used to keep me awake nights and it seemed like the minute I got into a crowd at the theatre, or anywhere I would start coughing my head off," declared Fred Ramsey a national cash Register man who having had the "Flu" last winter had never been able to get entirely rid of the after effects until he started taking Earle's Hypo-Cod just a few days ago. Continuing his praise of this new tonic being featured at the local drug store he said:

"I never felt strong a single day since I had that attack of the Spanish Influenza last fall, but—since I've been taking Earle's Hypo-Cod I have gained an enormous appetite and my cough is all gone. I weigh five pounds more than I did and feel stronger and better all over. Earle's Hypo-Cod is 'First Class,' continued Mr. Ramsey, 136 No. Harbine St. Dayton.

Earle's Hypo-Cod contains wild cherry bark, syrup of Hyphosphites and extract of cod liver oil, and these three elements surely knock a chronic cold mighty quickly. They build up the weak, sore lungs, banish catarrhal
